

Dear FCC Commissioners & Staff:

My name is Elizabeth Moyer and I am writing to you regarding your consideration of dropping the requirement that the telephone companies be required to provide ISPs access to telephone networks. This would be a mistake.

People are switching to local ISPs more now than before. Perhaps it is because in many cases the local ISPs offer better service at a lower rate.

If the requirement is dropped, many local ISPs will be forced out of business, thus reducing consumer choice, as well as driving up prices and driving down quality of service. We, as consumers, should have the right to shop around and choose what ISP and plan are best for us!

I implore you to leave the requirement in place. Many consumers, like myself, are quite pleased with service from local ISPs. Thank you.

Sincerely,

Elizabeth Moyer
